10-kroon banknote 2006, 2007

Seoses euro kasutuselevõtmise edasilükkumisega trükiti 2006. aastal täiendav kogus 10-krooniseid pangatähti, mis lasti käibele 2007. aasta jaanuaris. Need valmisid nagu varasemadki Suurbritannia rahatrükikojas De La Rue Currency. Põhivärv, kujundus ja peamised turvamärgid jäid samasuguseks nagu 1994. aasta 10-kroonistel. Kasutusele võeti mõned ajakohasemad turvamärgid.

Kolme lõvi kujutisega vesimärgi asemel on Jakob Hurda portree kujutisega vesimärk. Hele turvaniit asendati tumeda turvaniidiga, millel on läbipaistev korduv tekst „10 EEK EESTI PANK“. Esiküljele lisati turvamärk vaegnägijatele, mis Morse tähestikus märgib tähte H.

2007. aastal trükiti uus kogus 10-krooniseid pangatähti, mille kujundus, värvid ja turvamärgid jäid samasuguseks nagu 2006. aasta 10-kroonistel, muutus vaid aastaarv. Pangatähed lasti käibele 2009. aastal.

As the adoption of the euro was postponed, an additional series of 10-kroon banknotes was printed in 2006 by the British printing house De La Rue Currency. The new notes were put into circulation in January 2007. The main colour, design and basic security features are similar to those of the 1994 banknotes, only some more up-to-date security elements were added.

The watermark depicting three lions was replaced with a watermark presenting the portrait of Jakob Hurt. Instead of the light security thread a modern, dark security thread with a transparent repeating text “10 EEK EESTI PANK” was put into use. A tactile element for the visually impaired was added on the front side representing the letter H in Morse code.

In 2007, an additional series of 10-kroon banknotes was printed. The design, colours and security features remained the same as on the 2006 notes; only the year is different. The new banknotes were put into circulation in 2009.
