2-kroon banknote 2006, 2007

Seoses euro kasutuselevõtmise edasilükkumise ning 2-krooniste varude vähenemisega trükiti 2006. aastal Kanadas Saksa firma Giesecke & Devrient GmbH rahatrükikojas uus seeria 2-krooniseid pangatähti. Need lasti käibelevõtmiseks jaanuaris 2007. Uue seeria pangatähtede kujundus, värvid ja põhilised turvamärgid jäid samasuguseks nagu varasematel 2-kroonistel, kuid kasutusele võeti mõned ajakohasemad turvamärgid.

Pika Hermannitorni kujutisega vesimärk asendati Karl Ernst von Baeri portree kujutisega vesimärgiga. Läbipaistva heleda turvaniidi asemel võeti kasutusele tume turvaniit, millel on läbipaistev korduv tekst „2EEK EESTI PANK“. Turvaniit helendub ultravioletvalguses siniselt. Esiküljele vinjeti keskele paigutati latentne turvamärk nimiväärtusega „2“. Esiküljele paigutati ka reljeefsed sügavtrükikujundid: ülemisel äärel tekst „EESTI PANK“ ning pangatähe keskel ja portreest vasakul nimiväärtus „2“. Paberis on turvakiused, mis helenduvad ultravioletvalguses roheliselt.

2007. aastal trükiti täiendav kogus 2-krooniseid pangatähti, mille kujundus, värvid ja turvamärgid jäid samasuguseks nagu 2006. aasta 2-kroonistel, muutus vaid aastaarv. Pangatähed lasti käibelevõtmiseks jaanuaris 2009. aastal.

As the adoption of the euro was postponed and the stock of 2-kroon notes was running low, a second series of 2-kroon notes was printed in Canada in 2006 by the German printing house Giesecke & Devrient GmbH. The new notes were put into circulation in January 2007. The design, colours and basic security features of the new series are the same as on the 1992 notes, only some more up-to-date security elements were added.

The watermark featuring the Tall Hermann Tower was replaced by a watermark presenting the portrait of Karl Ernst von Baer. Instead of a transparent light security thread a modern, dark security thread with a transparent repeating text “2EEK EESTI PANK” was put into use. The new security thread fluoresces blue under UV light. A new security element, a latent denomination “2”, was applied. It is located on the front side of the note in the middle of the vignette. The front side also bears tactile intaglio-printed elements: the text “EESTI PANK” at the top edge and the denomination “2” in the middle of the note as well as to the left of the portrait. The banknote’s paper has security fibres that fluoresce green under UV light.

In 2007, an additional series of 2-kroon banknotes was printed. The design, colours and security features remained the same as on the 2006 notes, only the year is different. The new banknotes were put into circulation in 2009.
